Dear Little One,

Ho! Ho! Ho! I am very busy making toys, but I want to remind you to be very, very good. Remember! I can see you when you're sleeping; I know when you're awake. So, be good, for goodness sake! You are a wonderful child and your family loves you! Santa is very proud of you.

Be sure to give your family big kisses

every day.

Happy Holidays!

Dear Friend,

Happy Holidays To You! This letter is from Santa Claus and I am writing to ask if you have been very good this year.

I hope you have! You are a very good person and I enjoy seeing your name on my NICE list. Before the holidays,

I hope you will do at least 2 good deeds. Can you do that? If you do, I will be very proud of you!

Your family has told me that they love you very much and they are very proud of you! They are proud of you because you care about other people. They love you because you are a wonderful child.

Love,

Santa Claus

Re: Holiday Spirit

Dear One,

As you get older, I am more and more proud of you. You are growing up to be a unique, caring person. You are special in so many ways, not the least of which is because you are honorable and always try to do what is right. I am so glad you are part of my life!

When you were younger, you believed in Santa Claus and that makes the holidays so much fun ! Now, you are part of the "spirit of Christmas," the special effort that older children and adults make during the December holidays. We are all part of this effort to create wonderful holidays for our families. We plan special gifts, cook and bake traditional foods, decorate the tree, sing holiday songs, put on plays, attend religious ceremonies, and act like Santa Claus for the little ones. Everyone who makes this effort is part of the spirit of Christmas (or Hanukkah or Kwanza). In this way, we all create Santa Claus, who is the embodiment of the spirit of the holidays. And, because we do this, Santa Claus, for one day, becomes real. Never forget that your family loves you.
